

The Tolliver-Martin Feud Marks One More Bloodstain on Rowan County's Escutcheon.

[Special to the Courier-Journal.]

LEXINGTON, March 16.—It is reported here that Stewart Bumgartner, Deputy Sheriff of Rowan county, was killed by a mob at Morehead to-day. He received a charge of twenty buckshot in his body, and was killed instantly. Full particulars can not be had, but the murder is another in the book of bloody deeds which has followed the feud which arose in Rowan county over the Tolliver and Martin tragedy of a few months ago.

Another Victim to the Rowan War.

[Special to the Courier-Journal.]

MOREHEAD, KY., March 16.—Stewart Bumgardner, Deputy Sheriff, was shot dead from an ambush, four miles from Morehead, about 5 o'clock this evening. No particulars can be had to-night. The excitement is high. It is said he sided with the Martin faction.